A codpiece (from Middle English: cod, meaning "scrotum") is a covering flap or pouch that attaches to the front of the crotch of men's trousers and usually accentuates the genital area. It was held closed by string ties, buttons, or other methods. It was an important item of European clothing in the 15th and 16th centuries, and is still worn in the modern era in performance costumes, for rock ...

John Ketch (died November 1686), generally known as Jack Ketch, was an infamous English executioner employed by King Charles II. He became famous through the way he performed his duties during the tumults of the 1680s, when he was often mentioned in broadsheet accounts that circulated throughout the Kingdom of England. He is thought to have been appointed in 1663.

The Assembly or Put-Together class includes those puzzles which entail the arrangement of pieces to make specific shapes in either two or three dimensions, to mesh in a particular way (without necessarily interlocking) or to fill a container or tray. The pieces are free to be juxtaposed in many different configurations but only one or a few arrangements will be valid solutions.
